POSTMASTER M'CARDLE'S REPORT FOR FIRST QUARTER SHOWS GOOD INCREASE

Good Business Being Done at the Local Postoffice, and Receipts Are Larger Than They Were During Corresponding Period Last Year.

MORE CARRIERS NEEDED

Present Force Inadequate to Handle Heavy Mails Which Come in Daily—Same Number Employed as There Was Several Years Ago.

An increase in business is shown by the report of the Charleroi postoffice, just completed by Postmaster J. E. McCardle. The present first quarter report for this year shows somewhat of an increase over that of last year, and the better conditions financially are notable. Mr. McCardle's report in brief follows:

Sale of stamps	$4,237.41
Second class matter	24.94
Box rent	95.05
Miscellaneous	1.63
Total receipts	$4,362.03
Disbursements	2,904.32
Balance clear profits	$1,457.71

The report of the corresponding quarter for the past year, shows total receipts of $4,305.90, and total disbursements of $2,894.69, leaving $1,410.21 profits. During this quarter however, the expenses were $43.75 greater a month than they were last year, owing to the increase in salary of two carriers $100 each, one clerk $100, one clerk $200 and the increase of rent $25 per year. This would make the total expenses greater by $525 than last year.

At present the carrier force seems inadequate. Charleroi at the present time has four mail carriers, the same number as when free delivery was instituted. On all the routes there is some crowding to get the mail up and delivered in the proper time, and especially on No. 2 route is this noticeable.

Lecture.

Jesse K. Johnston will give an illustrated lecture on Mexico tomorrow evening in the Sunday school room of Christ Lutheran church under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip. The views are exceedingly beautiful, being finished by the National Art Museum of Philadelphia. Mr. Johnston will exhibit his collection of Indian rugs, basket-ware, Mexican blankets and pottery, also candlesticks and other relics from the prehistoric city of San Juan Teotichan said to be over 2,000 years old. A silver offering will be taken. 19512

Held Up Brewery Licenses.

Judge J. Q. Van Swearington handed down Fayette county's liquor licenses yesterday. Every brewery license was held up, the court stating that it had evidence that demanded further investigation. All the distilleries with the exception of C. F. Rush in Wheaton township, were granted a license. The Belle Vernon licenses granted were: Lou M. Kyle, George Lange, Frank Myford, Charles Wingenroth.

HAD ON DISPLAY THIS WEEK THE CAR WHICH WON THE COBE TROPHY RECENTLY IN AUTOMOBILE CONTEST

For two days this week, A. D. Spencer of the Spencer Automobile garage had on display at his garage here one of the most noted automobiles in the country—the Buick racing car, which was the winner of the Cobe trophy at Crown Point, Ind., this year as well as other races. The Cobe trophy was for the best time in a 395 mile race. The car was driven by Louis Chevrolet, one of the most widely known drivers in the world, and the course was completed in 8 hours 4 minutes and 36 seconds.

The Buick racer also holds the 200 mile world's record and over 100 other races.

It is a stock car, 30 horsepower, Model 116, and the price of it was $1,750. In the contest for the Cobe trophy it was the lowest priced car, as well as the lowest listed in horsepower.

MINISTER WEDS GIRL FROM WALES

At the First Baptist church on Washington Avenue, of which the groom is pastor, occurred last night the wedding of Rev. Clifford Seton Joshua and Miss Margaret May James. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. H. C. Gleiss, corresponding secretary of the Pittsburgh Baptist church, in the presence of a large number of friends, comprising members of the church and the congregation. The bridesmaid was Miss Emma Holyfield and the best man was A. G. Lewis, both of Charleroi. The wedding march from Mendelssohn was played by Miss Della Jacobs.

For the occasion the church was beautifully decorated, smilax, and spring flowers forming a greater part of the decorations. The bride was attired in a white silk gown and carried a large bouquet of white American bridal roses. Her bridesmaid was attired in a gown of white point de esprit and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. The flower girls, Misses Edith Stone and Katharine Roup, were both attired becomingly in white and carried bouquets of roses. The ring ceremony was used. A reception was tendered the couple after the wedding and a dinner was served the bridal party. At the bridal table sat the bride and groom with their attendants and flower girls, Rev. Gleiss and ministers of other Charleroi denominations.

The couple will not take any trip for the present, but will begin house-keeping on McKean avenue, where they have secured a flat and furnished it. The bride arrived in Charleroi from her former home, Senghenydd, Wales, on Tuesday. She is quite noted in her home country and bears considerable of a reputation as an elocutionist. Rev. Joshua preceded Miss James to this country several weeks. He has been located in Charleroi about a month.

The delegates will be given dinner at the hall. Another business session will be held in the afternoon and they will again be served with supper at the hall.

CONTROLLER TEST CASE ARGUED IN COURT YESTERDAY

No Decision Yet Matter, Still Being in Court's Hands.

DECISION EXPECTED SOON

The proceedings to test the right of John H. Moffitt to act as county controller and also the action against C. R. Tilton to require him to either audit the account of the year 1909 or resign were argued yesterday before Judges McIlvaine and Taylor and the questions are now with the court.

The decision of the court on the question will be eagerly awaited, especially the suit involving the question of the constitutionality of the county controller act. In this proceeding quo warranto action was started against John H. Moffitt to show by what right he held the office of controller. I. W. Baum and McIlvaine and Clark appeared for the controller, and Braden and Campbell and R. W. Knox for the contestants.

QUESTIONS IN EXAMINATION OF APPLICANTS

The questions given the applicants for mine foreman certificates yesterday afternoon and this morning in the examinations now being conducted in the Charleroi Savings and Trust company hall are:

- Second Grade questions:

First Grade questions:

DESPERATE FROM SUFFERING VETERAN OF THE CIVIL WAR SHOOTS AND KILLS HIMSELF

Constant Torture from Old Wound Said to Have Led up to Deed—Consulted Pittsburgh Specialists Yesterday.

GIVEN NO HOPE OF TEMPORARY RELIEF

From intense suffering which, it is thought, may have affected his brain, Joseph Edward Abell, 67 years old, one of the best known and respected citizens of Charleroi this morning shot himself through the right temple and expired almost instantly. Mr. Abell, who was a member of the 22nd Ringgold Cavalry during the Civil War, sustained wounds about his head which have been causing him great trouble ever since and which were of such nature that even the best specialists could give him no encouragement for temporary relief, although operations were performed at different times.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha Ellen Abell, one daughter, Miss Margaret, at home; and two sons, Edgar R., the Mail advertising manager, and Van J. of Pittsburgh. The funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

Mr. Abell was so injured during the war that he lost the sight of his left eye, and had to have it removed almost at the sacrifice of his life. The operation evidently caused the nerves of the head and ear to become affected and although temporary relief was afforded from year to year the trouble has grown worse, until during the past six months, his sufferings have been almost unbearable. Yesterday Mr. Abell went to Pittsburgh to consult Dr. Day and Dr. Eastman. They held no encouragement, it is said, and Mr. Abell worn to a state of desperation by his intense sufferings appeared to have reached the limit of endurance.

This morning at about 5:25 o'clock he arose and securing a revolver went to a mirror in the bath room and there guided it to his right temple, with the aid of his left hand, while with the right he pulled the trigger. Death was practically instantaneous. Mrs. Abell heard the noise of the body falling upon a stove and rushed into the room. She thought at first he had fainted, had hastily called in neighbors, when the sad truth was learned.

Mr. Abell has been a resident of this valley for about 35 years, in fact nearly ever since its opening up. For years he was in the coal and merchandise business at Charleroi and Coal Centre, having retired about three years ago. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum, and for 15 years was treasurer of the Charleroi order. His death has caused a profound impression among his friends, and much sympathy is expressed for the surviving members of the family.

W. H. Schuyler Sells Grand Hotel and will Leave Soon for West

Representative and Senator Join in Asking Favor for Rochester.

OLIVER MUCH INTERESTED

W. H. Schuyler has sold his interests in the Grand Hotel at Monessen to P. M. Dwyer to whom the license has been transferred. Mr. Schuyler has occupied this popular hostelry for about two years, during which time he has built up a large patronage, and made the hotel second to none in the valley. He was formerly proprietor of the Hotel Clement in Charleroi, and has many friends here who will be interested in his future movements.

36. Which diffuse the most rapidly, C. H. 4 or C. O. 2. Give the ratio of diffusion of the two gases.

37. What gases are commonly found in the bituminous mines of the State.

Charged With Murder.

Coroner J. T. Heffran held an inquest at Monongahela yesterday to inquire into the death of Vincenzo Trumbo an Italian who was shot and killed in a row at Shire Oaks Sunday night. The jury returned a verdict that Trumbo came to his death at the hands of Tony Troels, and recommended that the latter be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

Congressman J. K. Tener has introduced a bill in Congress for an appropriation for $125,000, for a site and public building at Rochester, Pa. The same bill has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Oliver and every effort will be made to get the measure incorporated in the general bill for public buildings to be passed at this session.

Mr. Tener has received numerous letters from Monongahela, Beaver Falls and Rochester wanting to send delegations to Washington to prosecute their claims, but the chairman of the committee of Public Buildings and Grounds informs Mr. Tener that these delegations cannot be heard, and Mr. Tener's own influence will carry greater weight.

Under the circumstances Mr. Tener personally will present any data available in furthering the claims for the improvements which may be used before the committee.

Charleroi Still Corrupt?

Former Congressman E. F. Acheson whose visits to Charleroi in the past have been largely confined to midnight hotel room conferences, with no attempt to look over the town and become acquainted with its people, says: "It is no aspersion on Charleroi's fair name to say that 346 fraudulent votes were cast in that town in the Republican primaries in 1908," and that our primaries are loosely conducted. As a refutation of the official records he says:

"The fact that 1,599 names are enrolled on the registry list in Charleroi is no proof that the town contains anything like that number of voters. Every one knows that the registry lists contain hundreds of names of persons who are not entitled to vote.

"The fact that so many names are on the registry list give an opportunity for fraud by their impersonation. In such a town as Charleroi, with a large floating population, it is easy to put a lot of illegal votes into the ballot boxes when the primaries are loosely conducted."

As a matter of course every one in Charleroi knows that Mr. Acheson doesn't know what he is talking about when he infers that Charleroi is not a solid town and that the biggest part of our population is floating. If he will consult his old workers they will tell him that it was chiefly the floating population that they always could vote for Mr. Acheson's tickets, and that the better element took little interest. Like the "silk stocking" vote of the East End, Pittsburgh, that overwhelmed the down town wards and elected Mayor Guthrie, the better element of Charleroi turned out at the primary in 1908 and gave Mr. Acheson his Waterloo. It was the first opportunity they ever had to "take a punch" at him in the nominating convention, with a good Republican opposing him, and they gladly embraced the opportunity.

Which Is Best?

T. L. Kennedy of New Brighton, who is opposing Congressman J. K. Tener of Charleroi for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, is making an issue of his opposition to the late tariff bill. By this, it is presumed, that had Mr. Kennedy been in Congress during the extra session when the tariff bill was considered and passed in accordance with President Taft's pledges and the avowed policy of the Republican party, he would have stood out in opposition against the action of his Pennsylvania Republican colleagues on the tariff, and the almost unanimous sentiment of his constituency of the district, regardless of party affiliations. In other words, Mr. Kennedy is presumably a free trader, opposed to any protection to American industry.

"Penroseism," whatever that may be, is another issue against which Mr. Kennedy is arrayed. When Senator Penrose devoted his entire energies day and night for the preservation of the Pennsylvania industries and the protection that has built them up and kept the wheels of industry revolving, he earned the expressed gratitude of all interests in the State. Even Lewis Emery, Jr., who had been a bitter political enemy of Senator Penrose, worked hand in glove with the former in the interests of the oil industry. As Mr. Emery represents the independent oil interests as opposed to the Standard, he emphasized the importance of protection for the independent producers, which is essential to their preservation.

Senator Penrose's activity in behalf of the Pennsylvania industries was highly appreciated by the entire laboring and industrial interests of the State. Had Mr. Kennedy been in Congress and opposed the action for the protection of the State's industries he would have undoubtedly heard something from the people of his district. No matter what other States may want, Pennsylvania wants its industries to keep on moving. When Mr. Kennedy opposes this he cannot represent the sentiment of his district or any other in the Commonwealth for that matter.

A Lost Cause.

Those who are using "Cannonism" as a cause for knocking the policy of the Republican party are wasting their time on a lost cause. The so-called arbitrary power of Speaker Cannon in Congress, over which so much objection has been made, is broken, and even Mr. Cannon's most sanguine friends do not claim that he will again be elected Speaker in the face of so much opposition against him. With Cannon's power as Speaker abridged, and himself to step down and out shortly, "Cannonism" as an issue no longer exists.

The organ or individual who holds up "Cannonism" as an issue, has therefore nothing on which to base an opposition. Speaker Cannon's application of the rules of the House were objectionable to some of his Republican colleagues, and by combining their forces with the Democrats, these objectionable features have been eliminated. With nothing now on which to base the charge of "Cannonism," such ground for opposition becomes weak and trivial.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Of course there are bound to be some dyspeptics, who are afraid the comet is going to hit the earth.

Even Pittsburgh with its so-called cleanliness is the center of a bank robber gang.

They claim the government is extravagant, intensely so. The way they crowd the mail up on Charleroi postoffice clerks, we doubt it.

To be the youngest veteran yet alive of the Civil War seems to be sufficient excuse for notoriety nowadays.

And now there seems to be a growing belief in some quarters that the North Pole was never actually discovered.

Instead of calling books that sell well on account of their questionable moral tone, the "best sellers," they should be truthfully named the "worst sellers."

If every millionaire would give as readily as Rockefeller and Carnegie do occasionally, there would soon be no cry of tainted money.

Many people are prone to think money is tainted until they lay hands upon it.

Wouldn't Congress be composed of angels if they could frame a tariff?

There seems to be sort of a growing discontent because Teddy Roosevelt is anchored in Italy. Wait until he gets to England.

Let's see. Was yesterday warm or cold?

"How long have you been keeping chickens?" "Ever since I put a good lock on my chicken house."

As caution is the better part of valor, so is originality the most foolish part of a fool.

Some fellows seem to be of the sort that would thank you for giving them a kick.

MEN OF ACTION.

Served as an illustration for the Professor's Lecture.

"How did you like Professor Newman?" one of the summer residents of Willowby asked Mr. Uram Gale. "I saw his name on the list of lecturers in your last winter's course."

Mr. Gale stroked his chin reflectively.

"Well, some thought he was kind of stiff in his speech at first, but I tell you what happened:

"He got kind of worked up telling us what 'men of action' meant, what the government of these United States was doing in Alaska, the Philippines, and so on, and he stepped a mile too high, the aide of the platform and lost his balance. But as he began to fall Sam Hobart and Pick Willis, that were in the front seat, stood up and kept him, one by each arm, and brought him up standing. He bulged out at the knees for a minute, but nothing to speak of.

"And," says Pick to him, 'The last word you spoke was "omnivorous," an' mebbe before you wout again an' I'll give you some kind of a hint, what it means.'

"The professor looked from Pick to Sam and back to Pick again, kind of dazed, and then he began to laugh.

"You let me mount," he says, and I'll see to it that the rest of my talk is such you won't need a dictionary. An' he kept his promise.

"Yes, sir, he gave us a fine talk after that, an' he's comin' again. We had him to breakfast next mornin', and my wife said she wouldn't want to hear anybody talk more sensible or act more common an' friendly than he did. But there was a piece in the Sentinel next week referin' to Pick and Sam as 'Willowby's men of action,' an' I reckon the name 'll stick to 'em long as they live."—Youth's Companion.

THEIR LAZY CLUB.

English Workmen Make Late Comes Pay For Tardiness.

In the engineering shops of a certain English firm the workmen of a year or two ago originated what they called the Lazy club. It was entirely their own idea, which for obvious reasons has received neither recognition nor financial support from the management, but has been the most excellent means of reducing the number of late comers.

Whenever a workman is more than five minutes after time he finds the gate locked, and he is not allowed to enter until the half hour is up.

This half hour is deducted from his wages, but in addition he has also to pay to the treasurer of the Lazy club about 5 cents for coming late.

If he is late more than once or so during a week every body is aware of the fact, and the second or third time he makes his appearance after starting time he is greeted with a "terrible combination" of noises produced on any available material by his fellow workmen.

At certain periods the accumulated funds of the Lazy club are divided not among those who have produced them, it should be noted, but among the club as a body. Thus the late workman is made to pay the club comers for his tardiness.

The last distribution was first paid to a "bean toad," and funds accumulated during a week's months were distributed amounting to over $175 a head.—System.

A Pepper Duet.

A certain literary and diplomatic friend of ours once took part in a pepper duel at a foreign banquet. It was provoked to the combat by the quantity of stimulating material that a stranger across the table indulged in. The stranger scribbled an unconscious quantity of red pepper upon his food and proceeded to devour it, to the wonder and admiration of onlookers. Thereupon with studied nonchalance the American swallowed an immense piece of chili pepper. Then the stranger added more red pepper, then the American another larger slice, covered with cayenne, and so on, till it seemed as if both would explode, while the other diners looked on, agape, the American finally winning out with a prodigious dose defying all emulation.—Century.

THE WHOLE ORCHESTRA.

Man Not Even the Second Fiddle Nor Drummer.

Professor Emil Reich in his work on "Woman Through All the Ages" deftly insinuates that in American life she is "the whole orchestra." He says:

"These women—the American maid and wife—are fundamentally different from their sisters in Europe, whether in the past or present. Far from taking the slightest interest in man, they look down upon him. Man in America plays neither first nor second fiddle. He does not even beat the drum. He is the mere lamp-lighter of the orchestra of life in the United States.

"Nothing is more common in the States than to be asked by one of their 'bright' women: 'How do you do this or that thing?' What trick have you for doing it?' In their minds, in their innermost minds, they are firmly convinced that all the great artists have their 'tricks' with which they work upon the audience. In native elemental talent they do not believe at all. How could they? They have themselves not the trace of such talent. There are over 12,000,000 pianos in American houses, used mostly by women, yet there is not a single American pianist of even the third order. There are thousands of schools for American women, yet there is not a single American woman of note as a scholar.

I calmly state that the American woman is not an artist, cannot be anything like the type of womanhood that, from the Hellenes downward, all European nations have considered as the right model. Women then, in America can not develop and have never developed that peculiar charm of either beauty or grace that in Europe has always been held to be the greatest power of women. The last word, then, in American womanhood is this, that they represent actually what the ancient Greek myths (if myths they be) represented symbolically—a realm of amazons grafted upon a realm of man. The old Greek amazon is, indeed, the evident archetype of the woman of the United States.

A Fixed Law.

"You are positive this happened on Tuesday?" demanded counsel.

"I am," said the witness.

"Sure it was Tuesday?"

"Yes."

"Why not Thursday or Friday?"

"Because we had chicken that day. Chicken day is Tuesday when I heard."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

I take this occasion of announcing myself as a candidate for Senator in the General Assembly subject to the decision of the Republican voters of the Forty-Sixth district composed of Washington and Greene counties, at the primaries to be held June 4, 1910.

read. If they approve my course, then I shall hope that they will feel that I have nothing to fear from the Republicans of Washington and Greene counties.

Leaving my cause in your hands, I am, Yours very respectfully,

A GOLDEN AIR CASTLE

By HAROLD OTIS

(Copyright, 1938, by American Press Association.)

About the middle of the last century two men, Edward Coyne and John Warner, prospected for gold in Colorado. Coyne was a visionary fellow who had left his sweetheart in the east and gone to Colorado with his head full of golden air castles, promising to return later with a fortune and celebrate their wedding. Warner was older, married to a shrew and as anxious to keep away from his wife as Coyne was to go back to his betrothed.

The partners sank a number of holes in different places without finding anything worth mentioning. Coyne had had a little money at the start, but it had all been spent. Then one evening he told Warner that he should make an effort to raise funds for the further prosecution of their work. The matter led to a quarrel, which was heard by prospectors in the neighborhood. Nevertheless the partners continued to work together for another month, at the end of which Warner disappeared. When questioned as to his partner's whereabouts Coyne said that he had gone without notice.

It was about this time that horse stealing and other crimes became so unbearable in the region that a vigilance committee was organized to hunt down and rid the people of the criminals. Having been created for a purpose, the committee entered upon that purpose with a zeal common to newly organized bodies. No crime being immediately reported, they busied themselves at looking for crime. The prospectors who had heard the angry words between Coyne and Warner reported the fact to a member of the committee and that Warner had disappeared.

One day when Coyne was sitting on a stone near a hole he had been digging, his elbows resting on his knees and his head on his hands, the air castles he had built tumbling about him, the committee approached him and accused him of having murdered his partner. Coyne protested his innocence, but as he could give no account of Warner's whereabouts it looked very plain to the committee, whose members were especially bent upon making an example of some one, that Coyne was a murderer. A rope was procured, one end of which was put about the young man's neck, the other thrown over a branch of a tree, which was bent down and held by two of the committee.

"Confess!" thundered the leader.

"I have nothing to confess," replied Coyne.

At a signal the men holding the branch let go, and it flew up, carrying Coyne with it. But it was pulled down again, and Coyne, after being revived was given another opportunity to confess. It seemed to him that his only chance was to do so. He might gain time, and time might save him. He therefore told the committee that if they would guarantee him a fair trial in a court of law he would confess. After a conference they decided to accept his proposition and, removing the rope from his neck, took him to the nearest jail.

It was now evident to Coyne that there was but one chance for his life—to find Warner. While awaiting trial he wrote to newspapers in Denver and Colorado Springs informing the editors of the situation, begging them to insert notices which he hoped would come to Warner's attention. The editors inserted the letters received.

Meanwhile Coyne was tried and convicted on his own confession. The newspaper notice had been widely copied by eastern papers as an item of interest, but of this the condemned man was ignorant. He was preparing himself for death and was engaged in writing an account of his situation to his betrothed, whom he had thus far kept in ignorance of it, when the door of his cell was opened and in walked his ex-partner. Coyne fainted.

While at work at the diggings Warner had received word that his wife had learned his whereabouts and was coming to join him. He at once resolved to leave without communicating to any one his intention, his reason or where he was going. Thinking that if his wife came west he had best go east, he did so and there saw the notice of the trouble he had brought upon Coyne.

Coyne upon his release was filled with a desire for revenge upon those who had so nearly sacrificed him. The committee had been made up of the most prominent men of the section. All had means, and one was a millionaire mine owner. Coyne at once brought suit against them individually for damages, but the case was never tried. Sensible of the wrong they had done and desirous to hush the matter up, the committee made up a purse amounting to the claim, $50,000.

When the money had been paid him Edward Coyne started east. He had not written a word to his betrothed since he had been jerked in the air by the committee, and four months had since then elapsed. She lived in a small country town, and no notice of his condition had reached her. When she saw him standing before her, wan, but otherwise prosperous looking, she threw her arms about him. Then she said:

"It looks, Ned, as if your air castle had turned to gold."

"One of 'em did."

"Which one?"

"The one I went into on the end of a rope."

There was an explanation (the story listened to with a wildly beating heart by the girl), at the end of which the young man produced a certified check for sufficient funds to warrant a wedding.

To Make It Easier for the Ladies

That a woman's work is never done is a saying old and true, the first of the week is wash day, that's why they call Monday "blue;" and besides the cooking and baking, and the thousand other things, there's the sweeping, scouring and scrubbing that many a backache brings. But the modern way of keeping house, the way it is done today, curtails that oldtime drudgery—it's much the better way. We use rugs in place of carpets, they're cleaner and look far the best, each floor with Chi-Namel is finished—Chi-Namel stands an old test. Sold by T. P. Grant.

Craig

Miss Minerva Craig, 60 years old, died yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Middleton at 521 Fallowfield avenue. The funeral will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon, the funeral party starting for Fayette City at 1:30 where the interment will take place in Mt. Auburn cemetery.

She is survived by three brothers and three sisters. She lived in West Virginia during the past 35 years, coming to Redstone during the past year, and to Charleroi a few weeks ago.

Investment and Speculation.
When any one is buying a coat or a fishing rod or a rose tree or laying down a cellar or setting up a library, either he knows what he wants, when to get it and what to pay for it or else he takes earnest counsel with his friends and with the most trustworthy professional advisers that he can find and uses all the wits that he and others can bring to bear on the subject in order to make sure that his purchase is prudently conducted. He attends sales, rummages in shops and discusses the matter in his club until he and it are voted a nuisance. If only half as much time and trouble were devoted to the careful selection of investments there would be fewer bankruptcies, unscrupulous promoters and ornamental directors, the world would be very much richer, and its riches would show less tendency to gravitate into questionable hands—Cornhill Magazine.

The Good Time.

Frequently you hear a rich man abused because he stays on the job that made him rich instead of spending his time gadding about the earth in search of a good time. But it is hardly fair to assume that avarice and greed prompt such action or even that it is a lack of faith in humanity. Very likely the work done represents the good time for the man who stays at it after all need of work has passed for it is certain that there are many ideas of what constitutes happiness, and the man who selects loafing is apt to change his mind in time if he tries it. Doing nothing is harder than work and if a man has spent many years at work, earning little of play, work brings him more enjoyment than the butterfly existence. The Nation Globe

POSTMASTER M'CARDLE'S REPORT FOR FIRST QUARTER SHOWS GOOD INCREASE

Good Business Being Done at the Local Postoffice, and Receipts Are Larger Than They Were During Corresponding Period Last Year.

MORE CARRIERS NEEDED

Present Force Inadequate to Handle Heavy Mails Which Come in Daily—Same Number Employed as There Was Several Years Ago.

An increase in business is shown by the report of the Charleroi postoffice, just completed by Postmaster J. E. McCordle. The present first quarter report for this year shows somewhat of an increase over that of last year, and the better conditions financially are notable. Mr. McCordle's report in brief follows:

Sale of stamps	$4,237.41
Second class matter	24.94
Box rent	98.05
Miscellaneous	1.63

Total receipts	$4,362.03
Disbursements	2,904.32

Balance clear profits.....$1,457.61

The report of the corresponding quarter for the past year, shows total receipts of $4,305.90, and total disbursements of $2,394.69, leaving $1,911.21 profits. During this quarter however, the expenses were $48.75 greater a month than they were last year, owing to the increase in salary of two carriers $100 each, one clerk $100, one clerk $200 and the increase of rent $25 per year. This would make the total expenses greater by $525 than last year.

At present the carrier force seems inadequate. Charleroi at the present time has four mail carriers, the same number as when free delivery was instituted. On all the routes there is some crowding to get the mail up and delivered in the proper time, and especially on No. 2 route is this noticeable.

Lecture.

Jesse K. Johnston will give an illustrated lecture on Mexico tomorrow evening in the Sunday school room of Christ Lutheran church under the auspices of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip. The views are exceedingly beautiful, being finished by the National Art Museum of Philadelphia. Mr. Johnston will exhibit his collection of Indian rugs, basketware, Mexican blankets and pottery, also candlesticks and other relics from the prehistoric city of San Juan Teotihuacan said to be over 2,000 years old. A silver offering will be taken. 19512

Held Up Brewery Licenses.

Judge J. Q. Van Swearington handed down Fayette county's liquor licenses yesterday. Every brewery license was held up, the court stating that it had evidence that demanded further investigation. All the distilleries with the exception of C. F. Rosh in Wheaton township, were granted a license. The Belle Vernon licenses granted were: Lou M. Kyle, George Lange, Frank Myford, Charles Wingenroth.

HAD ON DISPLAY THIS WEEK THE CAR WHICH WON THE COBE TROPHY RECENTLY IN AUTOMOBILE CONTEST

For two days this week, A. D. Spencer of the Spencer Automobile garage had on display at his garage here one of the most noted automobiles in the country—the Buick racing car, which was the winner of the Cobe trophy at Crown Point, Ind., this year as well as other races. The Cobe trophy was for the best time in a 395 mile race. The car was driven by Louis Chevrolet, one of the most widely known drivers in the world, and the course was completed in 8 hours 4 minutes and 36 seconds.

The Buick racer also holds the 200 mile world's record and over 100 other races.

It is a stock car, 30 horsepower, Model 116, and the price of it was $1,750. In the contest for the Cobe trophy it was the lowest priced car, as well as the lowest listed in horsepower.

MINISTER WEDS GIRL FROM WALES

At the First Baptist church on Washington avenue, of which the groom is pastor, occurred last night the wedding of Rev. Clifford Seton Joshua and Miss Margaret May James. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. H. C. Gleiss, corresponding secretary of the Pittsburgh Baptist church, in the presence of a large number of friends, comprising members of the church and the congregation. The bridesmaid was Miss Emma Holyfield and the best man was A. G. Lewis, both of Charleroi. The wedding march from Mendelssohn was played by Miss Della Jacobs.

For the occasion the church was beautifully decorated, and the spring flowers forming a greater part of the decorations. The bride was attired in a white silk gown and carried a large bouquet of white American bridal roses. Her bridesmaid was attired in a gown of white point de esprit and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. The flower girls, Misses Edith Stone and Katharine Roup, were both attired becomingly in white and carried bouquets of roses. The ring ceremony was used.

A reception was tendered the couple after the wedding and a dinner was served the bridal party. At the bridal table sat the bride and groom with their attendants and flower girls, Rev. Gleiss and ministers of other Charleroi denominations.

The couple will not take any trip for the present, but will begin house-keeping on McKean avenue, where they have secured a flat and furnished it. The bride arrived in Charleroi from her former home, Senghenydd, Wales, on Tuesday. She is quite noted in her home country and bears considerable of a reputation as an elocutionist. Rev. Joshua preceded Miss James to this country several weeks. He has been located in Charleroi about a month.

CONTROLLER TEST CASE ARGUED IN COURT YESTERDAY

No Decision Yet Matter, Still Being in Court's Hands.

DECISION EXPECTED SOON

The proceedings to test the right of John H. Moffitt to act as county controller and also the action against C. R. Tilton to require him to either audit the account of the year 1909 or resign were argued yesterday before Judges McIlvaine and Taylor and the questions are now with the court.

The decision of the court on the question will be eagerly awaited, especially the suit involving the question of the constitutionality of the county controller act. In this proceeding quo warranto action was started against John H. Moffitt to show by what right he held the office of controller. I. W. Baum and McIlvaine and Clark appeared for the controller, and Braden and Campbell and R. W. Knox for the contestants.

QUESTIONS IN EXAMINATION OF APPLICANTS

The questions given the applicants for mine foreman certificates yesterday afternoon and this morning in the examinations now being conducted in the Charleroi Savings and Trust company hall are:

Second Grade questions:

22. What method would you adopt in drawing pillars in order to insure the greatest safety to the workmen and the most complete extraction of the coal?

23. Describe the kind of explosives best adapted to the different kinds of coal and rock, keeping in view the safety of the workmen.

24. State in detail what should be done to remove the dangers due to coal dust to a minimum.

25. What precautions would you use in timbering all haulage ways in a mine to prevent the same from being knocked out by the cars leaving the track?

26. If an airway is one mile in length 6x8 feet in section, water gauge 1.2 inches, velocity of air 500 feet per minute; if the airway is increased to two miles and the velocity of air increased to 750 feet per minute, what will be the water gauge?

27. What would be your method of timbering a room with a tender roof, where the chain and puncher machines were used, to insure the safety of the workmen?

28. If an airway is 2,000 feet in length, 6x8 feet in section, velocity of the current being 500 feet per minute, what is the power producing the ventilation?

29. What general conditions would guide you in determining the width of rooms and the dimensions of room pillars?

30. Which method do you prefer, the timbering of the working places by the miner or by practical timber men employed for that purpose? Give your reasons.

First Grade questions:

31. State what experience you have had in gaseous mines in this State, giving the name and location of each mine, the length of time employed in each and the different capacities in which you obtained such experience.

32. In a mine giving off 2,500 cubic feet of marsh gas per minute, the volume of air entering the mine at the inlet is 4,500,000 cubic feet per hour. What is the percentage of gas in the return? Would you consider this percentage of gas dangerous?

33. Why is after-damp a variable mixture?

34. What method would you adopt in timbering and in the removal of the same in pillar work in order to insure the best results, both as to safety and economy and when, where and how would you instruct the workmen?

35. What method would you adopt in drilling, charging and firing of shots to insure the greatest safety to

DESPERATE FROM SUFFERING VETERAN OF THE CIVIL WAR SHOOTS AND KILLS HIMSELF

Constant Torture from Old Wound Said to Have Led up to Deed—Consulted Pittsburg Specialists Yesterday.

GIVEN NO HOPE OF TEMPORARY RELIEF

From intense suffering which, it is thought, may have affected his brain, Joseph Edward Abell, 67 years old, one of the best known and respected citizens of Charleroi this morning shot himself through the right temple and expired almost instantly. Mr. Abell, who was a member of the 22nd Ringgold Cavalry during the Civil War, sustained wounds about his head which have been causing him great trouble ever since and which were of such nature that even the best specialists could give him no encouragement for temporary relief, although operations were performed at different times.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Martha Ellen Abell, one daughter, Miss Margaret, at home; and two sons, Edgar R., the Mail advertising manager, and Van J. of Pittsburg. The funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

Mr. Abell was so injured during the war that he lost the sight of his left eye, and had to have it removed almost at the sacrifice of his life. The operation evidently caused the nerves of the head and ear to become affected and although temporary relief was afforded from year to year the trouble has grown worse, until during the past six months, his sufferings have been almost unbearable. Yesterday Mr. Abell went to Pittsburg to consult Dr. Day and Dr. Eastman. They held no encouragement, it is said, and Mr. Abell went to a state of desperation by his intense sufferings appeared to have reached the limit of endurance.

This morning at about 5:25 o'clock he arose and securing a revolver went to a mirror in the bath room and there guided it to his right temple, with the aid of his left hand, while with the right he pulled the trigger. Death was practically instantaneous. Mrs. Abell heard the noise of the body falling upon a stove and rushed into the room. She thought at first he had fainted, and hastily called in neighbors, when the sad truth was learned.

Mr. Abell has been a resident of this valley for about 35 years, in fact nearly ever since its opening up. For years he was in the coal and merchandise business at California and Coal Centre, having retired about three years ago. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum, and for 15 years was treasurer of the California order. His death has caused a profound impression among his friends, and much sympathy is expressed for the surviving members of the family.

Representative and Senator Join in Asking Favor for Rochester.

OLIVER MUCH INTERESTED

W. H. Schuyler has sold his interests in the Grand Hotel at Monessen to P. M. Dwyer to whom the license has been transferred. Mr. Schuyler has occupied this popular hotel for about two years, during which time he has built up a large patronage, and made the hotel second to none in the valley. He was formerly proprietor of the Hotel Clement in Charleroi, and has many friends here who will be interested in his future movements.

Charged With Murder.

Coroner J. T. Heffran held an inquest at Monongahela yesterday to inquire into the death of Vincenzo Trumbo an Italian who was shot and killed in a row at Shire Oaks Sunday night. The jury returned a verdict that Trumbo came to his death at the hands of Tony Troels, and recommended that the latter be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

Congressman J. K. Tener has introduced a bill in Congress for an appropriation for $125,000, for a site and public building at Rochester, Pa. The same bill has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Oliver and every effort will be made to get the measure incorporated in the general bill for public buildings to be passed at this session.

Mr. Tener has received numerous letters from Monongahela, Beaver Falls and Rochester wanting to send delegations to Washington to prosecute their claims, but the chairman of the committee of Public Buildings and Grounds informs Mr. Tener that these delegations cannot be heard, and Mr. Tener's own influence will carry greater weight.

Under the circumstances Mr. Tener personally will present any data available in furthering the claims for the improvements which may be used before the committee.

Charleroi Still Corrupt?

Former Congressman E. F. Acheson whose visits to Charleroi in the past have been largely confined to midnight hotel room conferences, with no attempt to look over the town and become acquainted with its people, says "it is no aspersion on Charleroi's fair name to say that 346 fraudulent votes were cast in that town in the Republican primaries in 1908," and that our primaries are loosely conducted. As a refutation of the official records he says:

"The fact that 1,599 names are enrolled on the registry list in Charleroi is no proof that the town contains anything like that number of voters. Every one knows that the registry lists contain hundreds of names of persons who are not entitled to vote.

"The fact that so many names are on the registry list give an opportunity for fraud by their impersonation. In such a town as Charleroi, with a large floating population, it is easy to put a lot of illegal votes into the ballot boxes when the primaries are loosely conducted."

As a matter of course every one in Charleroi knows that Mr. Acheson doesn't know what he is talking about when he infers that Charleroi is not a solid town and that the biggest part of our population is floating. If he will consult his old workers they will tell him that it was chiefly the floating population that they always could vote for Mr. Acheson's tickets, and that the better element took little interest. Like the "silk stockings" vote of the East End, Pittsburgh, that overwhelmed the down town wards and elected Mayor Guthrie, the better element of Charleroi turned out at the primary in 1908 and gave Mr. Acheson his Waterloo. It was the first opportunity punch" at him in the nominating convention, with a good Republican opposing him, and they gladly embraced the opportunity.

Which Is Best?

T. L. Kennedy of New Brighton, who is opposing Congressman J. K. Tener of Charleroi for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, is making an issue of his opposition to the late tariff bill. It is presumed that had Mr. Kennedy been in Congress during the extra session when the tariff bill was considered and passed in accordance with President Taft's pledges and the avowed policy of the Republican party, he would have stood out in opposition against the action of his Pennsylvania Republican colleagues on the tariff, and the almost unanimous sentiment of his constituency of the district, regardless of party affiliations. In other words, Mr. Kennedy is presumably a free trader, opposed to any protection to American industry.

"Penroseism," whatever that may be, is another issue against which Mr. Kennedy is arrayed. When Senator Penrose devoted his entire energies day and night for the preservation of the Pennsylvania industries and protection that has built them up and kept the wheels of industry revolving, he earned the expressed gratitude of all interests in the State. Even Lewis Emery, Jr., who had been a bitter political enemy of Senator Penrose, worked hard in glove with the former in the interests of the oil industry. As Mr. Emery represents the independent oil interests as opposed to the Standard, he emphasized the importance of protection for the independent producers, which is essential to their preservation.

Senator Penrose's activity in behalf of the Pennsylvania industries was highly appreciated by the entire laboring and industrial interests of the State. Had Mr. Kennedy been in Congress and opposed the action for the protection of the State's industries he would have undoubtedly heard something from the people of his district. No matter what other States may want, Pennsylvania wants its industries to keep on moving. When Mr. Kennedy opposes this he cannot represent the sentiment of his district or any other in the Commonwealth for that matter.

A Lost Cause.

Those who are using "Cannonism" as a cause for knocking the policy of the Republican party are wasting their time on a lost cause. The so-called arbitrary power of Speaker Cannon in Congress, over which so much objection has been made, is broken, and even Mr. Cannon's most sanguine friends do not claim that he will again be elected Speaker in the face of so much opposition against him. With Cannon's power as Speaker abridged, and himself to step down and out shortly, "Cannonism" as an issue no longer exists.

The organ or individual who holds up "Cannonism" as an issue, has therefore nothing on which to base an opposition. Speaker Cannon's application of the rules of the House were objectionable to some of his Republican colleagues, and by combining their forces with the Democrats, these objectionable features have been eliminated. With nothing now on which to base the charge of "Cannonism," such grounds for opposition becomes weak and trivial.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Of course there are bound to be some dyspeptics, who are afraid the comet is going to hit the earth.

Even Pittsburgh with its so-called cleanliness is the center of a bank robber gang.

They claim the government is extravagant, intensely so. The way they crowd the mail up on Charleroi postoffice clerks, we doubt it.

To be the youngest veteran yet alive of the Civil War seems to be sufficient excuse for notoriety nowadays.

And now there seems to be a growing belief in some quarters that the North Pole was never actually discovered.

Instead of calling books that sell well on account of their questionable moral tone, the "best sellers," they should be truthfully named the "worst sellers."

If every millionaire would give as readily as Rockefeller and Carnegie do occasionally, there would soon be no cry of tainted money.

"Many people are prone to think money is tainted until they lay hands upon it."

Wouldn't Congress be composed of angels if they could frame a tariff?

There seems to be sort of a growing discontent because Teddy Roosevelt is anchored in Italy. Wait until he gets to England.

Let's see. Was yesterday warm or cold?

"How long have you been keeping chickens?" "Ever since I put a good lock on my chicken house."

As caution is the better part of valor, so is originality the most foolish part of a fool.

Some fellows seem to be of the sort that would thank you for giving them a kick.

MEN OF ACTION.

Served as an Illustration For the Professor's Lecture.

"How did you like Professor Newman?" one of the summer residents of Willowby asked Mr. Hiram Gale. "I saw his name on the list of lecturers in your last winter's course."

Mr. Gale started to tell the story. "Well, some thing, he was kind of stiff in his speech at first, but I got what happened."

"He got kind of worked up telling what 'men of action' meant. Wait! The government of these United States was in a fix, the Philippines, as you know, he stepped a little too far, the advice of the platform and lost his balance. But as he began to fall Sam Hobart and Pick Willis, that were in the front row, stood up and kept him, one by each arm, and brought him up standing. He bowed out at the knees for a minute, but didn't speak of."

"Ah," says Pick to him, "The last word you spoke was 'omnivorous,' in' mebbe before you would again, you'd give us some kind of a hint what it means."

"The professor looked from Pick to Sam and back to Pick again, kind of dazed, and then he began to laugh."

"You let me remark," he says, "I'll see to it that the rest of my talk is such you won't need a dictionary," and he kept his promise.

"Yes, sir," he gave us a fine talk after that, and he's comin' again. We had him to breakfast next mornin', and my wife said she wouldn't want to hear anybody talk more sensible or act more common and friendly than he did. But there was a piece in the Sentinel next week referring to Pick and Sam as 'Willowby's men of action,' and I reckon the name 'll stick to 'em long as they live."—Youth's Companion.

THEIR LAZY CLUB.

English Workmen Make Late Come.

Pay For Tardiness. In the engineering shops of a certain English firm the workmen of a year or two ago originated what they called the Lazy club. It was entirely their own idea, which for obvious reasons has received neither recognition nor financial support from the management, but has been the most excellent means of reducing the number of late comers.

Whenever a workman is more than five minutes after time he finds the gate locked and he is not allowed to enter until the half hour is up.

This half hour is deducted from his wages, but in addition he has also to pay to the treasurer of the Lazy club about 5 cents for each late hour.

If he is late more than once or so during a week everybody is aware of the fact and the second or third time he makes his appearance after starting time he is greeted with a terrific combination of noises produced on any available material by his fellow work men.

At certain periods the accumulated fumes of the Lazy club are divided out among those who have produced them. It should be noted, but among the current staff of glibly. Thus the late workman is made to pay the club comers for his tardiness.

The last distribution was just prior to a "beam fest" and funds accumulated during twelve months were distributed, amounting to over $175 a head.—System.

A Pepper Duel.

A certain literary and diplomatic friend of ours once took part in a pepper duel at a foreign restaurant. It was provoked to the point of a quarrel by a quantity of something, something that a stranger across the table indulged in. The stranger surprised an unconscionable quantity of red pepper upon his food and proceeded to devour it to the wonder and admiration of onlookers. Thereupon with studied nonchalance the American swallowed an immense piece of chili pepper. Then the stranger added more red pepper. The American swallowed another larger slice, covered with cayenne, and so on, till it seemed as if both would explode, while the other diners looked on aghast, the American finally winning out with a prodigious dose defying all emulation.—Century.

THE WHOLE ORCHESTRA.

Man Not Even the Second Fiddle Nor Drummer.

Professor Emil Reich in his work on "Woman Through All the Ages" delicately insinuates that in American life she is the whole orchestra. He says "These women—the American maid and wife—are fundamentally different from their sisters in Europe, who, in the past or present, far from taking the slightest interest in man, they look down upon him. Man in America plays neither first nor second fiddle. He does not even beat the drum. He is the mere lamplighter of the orchestra of life in the United States."

"Nothing is more common in the States than to be asked by one of their 'bright' women: 'How do you do this or that thing? What trick have you for doing it?' In their minds, in their innermost minds, they are firmly convinced that * * * all the great artists have their 'tricks' with which they work upon the audience. In native elemental talent they do not believe at all. How could they? They have themselves not the grace or such talent. There are over 12,000,000 pianos in American houses, used mostly by women, yet there is not a single American pianist of even the third order. There are thousands of schools for single American women of note as a scholar."

I calmly state that the American woman is not and cannot be anything like the type of womanhood that from the Hellenic dawnward, all European nations have considered as the right model. Women then, in America can not develop the same level of development that peculiar charm of either beauty or grace that in Europe has always been held to be the greatest power of women.

The last word, then, in American womanhood is this, that they represent actually what the ancient Greek myths (if myths they be) represented symbolically—a realm of anaxos grafted upon a realm of man. The old Greek amazon is, indeed, the evident archetype of the woman of the United States.

A Fixed Law.

"You are positive this happened on Tuesday?" demanded counsel.

"I am," said the witness.

"Sure it was Tuesday?"

"Yes."

"Why not Thursday or Friday?"

"Because we had chicken that day."

"Chicken day is Tuesday, when?"

I take this occasion of announcing myself as a candidate for Senator in the General Assembly subject to the decision of the Reis an open book for the people of Washington and Greene counties to read. If they approve my course, then I shall hope that they will stand loyally by me. I shall make no unseemly scramble for this high office. I shall abuse no one and I hope no friend of mine will say aught that would wound any man who is opposed to me. I am willing to submit my candidacy upon the record I have made, and feel that I have nothing to fear from the Republicans of Washington

A GOLDEN AIR CASTLE

By HAROLD OTIS

(Copyright 1904 by American Press Association)

About the middle of the last century two men, Edward Coyne and John Warner, prospected for gold in Colorado. Coyne was a visionary fellow who had left his sweetheart in the east and gone to Colorado with his head full of golden air castles, promising to return later with a fortune and celebrate their wedding. Warner was older, married to a shrew and as anxious to keep away from his wife as Coyne was to go back to his betrothed.

The partners sank a number of holes in different places without finding anything worth mentioning. Coyne had had a little money at the start, but it had all been spent. Then one evening he told Warner that he should make an effort to raise funds for the further prosecution of their work. The matter led to a quarrel, which was heard by prospectors in the neighborhood. Nevertheless the partners continued to work together for another month, at the end of which Warner disappeared. When questioned as to his partner's whereabouts Coyne said that he had gone without notice.

It was about this time that horse stealing and other crimes became so unbearable in the region that a vigilance committee was organized to hunt down and rid the people of the criminals. Having been created for a purpose, the committee entered upon that purpose with a zeal common to newly organized bodies. No crime being immediately reported, they busied themselves at looking for crime. The prospectors who had heard the angry words between Coyne and Warner reported the fact to a member of the committee and that Warner had disappeared.

One day when Coyne was sitting on a stone near a hole he had been digging, his elbows resting on his knees and his head on his hands, the air castles he had built crumbling about him, the committee approached him and accused him of having murdered his partner. Coyne protested his innocence, but as he could give no account of Warner's whereabouts it looked very plain to the committee, whose members were especially bent upon making an example of some one, that Coyne was a murderer. A rope was procured, one end of which was put about the young man's neck, the other thrown over a branch of a tree, which was bent down and held by two of the committee.

"Confess!" thundered the leader. "I have nothing to confess," replied Coyne.

At a signal the men holding the branch let go, and it flew up, carrying Coyne with it. But it was pulled down again, and Coyne, after being revived, was given another opportunity to confess. It seemed to him that his only chance was to do so. He might gain time, and time might save him. He therefore told the committee that if they would guarantee him a fair trial in a court of law he would confess. After a conference they decided to accept his proposition and, removing the rope from his neck, took him to the nearest jail.

It was now evident to Coyne that there was but one chance for his life—to find Warner. While awaiting trial he wrote to newspapers in Denver and Colorado Springs informing the editors of the situation, begging them to insert notices which he hoped would come to Warner's attention. The editors inserted the letters received.

Meanwhile Coyne was tried and convicted on his own confession. The newspaper notice had been widely copied by eastern papers as an item of interest, but of this the condemned man was ignorant. He was preparing himself for death and was engaged in writing an account of his situation to his betrothed, whom he had thus far kept in ignorance of it, when the door of his cell was opened and in walked his ex-partner. Coyne fainted.

While at work at the diggings Warner had received word that his wife had learned his whereabouts and was coming to join him. He at once resolved to leave without communicating to any one his intention, his reason or where he was going. Thinking that if his wife came west he had best go east, he did so and there saw the notice of the trouble he had brought upon Coyne.

Coyne upon his release was filled with a desire for revenge upon those who had so nearly sacrificed him. The committee had been made up of the most prominent men of the section. All had means, and one was a millionaire mine owner. Coyne at once brought suit against them individually for damages, but the case was never tried. Sensible of the wrong they had done and desirous to hush the matter up, the committee made up a purse amounting to the claim, $50,000.

When the money had been paid him Edward Coyne started east. He had not written a word to his betrothed since he had been jerked in the air by the committee, and four months had since then elapsed. She lived in a small country town, and no notice of his condition had reached her. When she saw him standing before her, wan, but otherwise prosperous looking, she threw her arms about him. Then she said:

"It looks, Ned, as if your air castle had turned to gold."

"One of 'em did."

"Which one?"

"The one I went into on the end of a rope."

There was an explanation (the story listened to with a wildly beating heart by the girl) at the end of which the young man produced a certified check for sufficient funds to warrant a wedding.

WOODBURY writes

about His Famous HAIR TONIC

Extract from an article written by the Master Dermatologist when Woodbury's combination Hair and Scalp Treatment was first successfully prepared for Home Use.

"The formula under which this Hair Tonic is made was tested and improved for over thirty-five years before a bottle was sold through the stores."

"For over thirty-five years this Tonic has been used in the enormous practice of John H. Woodbury's Dermatological Institute."

"Millions of cases were treated, and after their cure the patients continued the use of this Tonic as a delightful refreshment to the scalp and to keep the hair soft, rich and glossy."

If you don't see Woodbury's face on the label it's an imitation.

"This necessarily meant repeated calls at the Woodbury Institute, often at the inconvenience of patients living at a distance."

"To supply this demand, and the growing call from those who had not been treated, for a Hair Tonic which was scientifically successful (not a mere commercial product) this Tonic has now been put on the market and can hereafter be had from all reputable dealers."

Now, right in your own home, you can use the preparations formerly supplied only to office patients of the Institute. No other preparations for the Hair and Scalp are backed up by the same unlimited experience. No others give such quick and such satisfactory results.

Woodbury's Hair Tonic saves the hair when all other preparations fail. It prevents dandruff; stops falling hair, and instantly relieves itching scalp. It restores the lustre to the hair; preserves its natural color; increases its vitality and makes it beautiful and abundant.

Everyone Endorses Woodbury's

Hair Now Growing Nicely.

My hair stopped falling out just as soon as I used the Woodbury's Scalp Cream in conjunction with the Scalp Cleaner. It's action was just like magic. The thick greasy dandruff is all gone. My hair is growing nicely and taking on a new growth. Your Hair Tonic I use night and morning, and it is the nicest hair dressing I have ever used. Thanking you for the letters of advice, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
Mr. JOHN F. HOWSON,

This Specialist Uses Woodbury's

After ten years of careful study, and close observation of all conditions of the hair and scalp, I find the Woodbury method of treatment most successful of all. It is based on the most correct scientific principles. In cases of scalp disease the Woodbury preparations go right to the root of the trouble, and their curative and stimulating properties are remarkable. Am now using them exclusively in my office and the results obtained are most satisfactory.

Quick Results Pleased Him.

The dandruff and itching scalp were terrible and my hair was thinning out over the temples and at the back of my head at an alarming rate. Nothing seemed to help until I used the Woodbury remedies, but good results were then noticed from the start, and in a few days the dandruff was entirely gone and new hairs began to show. What pleased me most was that results were so quick. The Woodbury Hair and Scalp Remedies certainly make the hair grow.

Yours very truly,

New Tuberculosis Cure Based on Medicine

Did it ever occur to you that the reason medical doctors have so little success in curing Tuberculosis is because they today do not practice medicine?

To say that a medicine exists for the cure of Consumption, or at least a strong statement, is to say that the patient has a medicine that has been the means of saving many a life from a wasting disease and in pneumonia, curing a large number of consumptives.

Telling every sufferer to gorge himself with eggs and milk is apparently the limit of modern treatment. Certainly a person afflicted with a wasting disease should be well fed with wholesome, nourishing food, but frequently the eggs in quantity cause indigestion, backache, and then no food nourishes. As for milk, a very good food for many, but a producer of biliousness for some.

Any diet that keeps a Consumptive well nourished is the right one, but what is going to cure the patient? Eckman's Alternative has cured and is curing many a case of Consumption. Let those speak who know. Here is a specimen:

Dr. Savannah St. Rochester, N. Y.
Gentlemen: On Jan. 8, 1921, I was operated upon for Tubercular Peritonitis at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physicians gave me up. I was then urged by a clergyman to take Eckman's Alternative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 lbs. and am absolutely cured.

EDNA FINZER
Eckman's Alternative is good for all throat and Lung troubles, and is on sale in Charleroi by W. F. Hennings and other druggists. It can also be obtained at, or procured by, your local druggist. Ask for Eckman's Alternative, or write for reference to the Eckman Laboratory, Phila., Pa.

MANY SPECIAL FLAGS.

Uncle Sam Has Some Which Are Very Seldom Seen.

COLORS OF THE PRESIDENT.

Not Until 1882 Did the Chief Executive of the Nation Have a Personal Banner, but Now He Has Three, the Naval, Army and Peace Flags.

As the United States grew and the government expanded many new departments were added, and with them many special flags have come into existence. Least often seen and yet most interesting of these twenty-five or thirty special flags is that of the president of the United States. He has a wealth of them—in fact, no less than three—but they are seldom seen in public. There are two each of these flags, one of bunting and one of silk. They are exactly alike, with this exception, but the one of silk is called the "president's colors."

The president of the United States had no personal flag until 1882. If he went aboard a ship his presence was denoted by the national flag hoisted at the main truck, and his presence in a garrison or post was denoted by the raising of the big garrison flag. These were not entirely distinctive as denoting the presence of the president, for these flags were hoisted on gala occasions when the president was not around. The lack of a distinguishing flag for him was felt by the navy also, and the secretary of the navy by general orders, Aug. 19, 1882, established a flag for the president of the United States. The general orders described the flag as of blue bunting with the coat of arms of the United States in the center. The flag was to be hoisted at the main of the vessel when the president was aboard and be carried at the bow of the launch on which he came aboard.

In the army there was no distinguishing flag for the president of the United States until just before the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. Colonel Theodore Bingham, who was then superintendent of public buildings and grounds, called the attention of President McKinley to this lack of a distinguishing flag for him and stated that he thought the commander in chief of the United States army and navy ought to have a distinguishing flag. President McKinley did not like the suggestion, but the secretary of war did, and a flag was made. It was designed by Frederick D. Owen and is a beautiful thing to look at. The official description of the flag is as follows:

"The president's flag is of scarlet bunting, thirteen feet by eight feet hoist. In each corner is a five pointed star of five inch radius to the tips. In the center of the scarlet field is a large fifth star, also of five points, two feet nine inches in radius to the tips. Inside of this star is a parallel star, separated from it by a band of white three inches wide. The inner star forms the blue field upon which is the coat of arms of the United States. On the scarlet field around the large star are forty-six small white stars, one for each state, equally scattered in the re-entering angles and all included within the circumference of an imaginary circle three feet and a quarter in radius. In the upper point over the angle is a constellation of thirteen stars, representing the original thirteen states of the American confederation."

Mr. Owen explained that in the olive leaves, its berries and the arrows is symbolized the original thirteen. It is also not a little singular that the official seal should bear in its motto exactly thirteen letters and that the general order which created the flag was also numbered thirteen. The magnificent silken colors of the president's flag are of scarlet, and the design is embroidered upon this so exquisitely that it is impossible to tell right from wrong side when looking at the flag. The colors on the flag are what is called "proper"—that is, natural—the eagle being brown and the olive branches green, with red berries. This flag is to be displayed only in time of war.

Yet another flag has the president. In 1902 the "peace" flag was adopted. This third flag differs in a good many respects from the other two. In the first place, the great seal of the United States is correctly depicted. On the other flags the design of the seal is seven red stripes and six white ones, which is correct, as the flag design was adopted by the Thirtieth congress, but when the great seal was adopted the designer, not knowing much about the flag, as the forefathers intended, and six red stripes. And that is the seal today. There was a long discussion whether the seal should not be changed to agree with the stripes on the flag, as the forefathers intended, but it was decided that as it had been adopted it should remain. This "peace" flag thus has the seal correctly depicted. The eagle is snow white, its feathers being outlined in deep black. There is a different arrangement of the stars and of the sunburst also. The sunburst is exactly circular in form, with the rays radiating from the group of stars. The colors are of silk with exactly the same design.—Washington Star.

Curious Old Laws.

Some of the old laws of Nepal, India, were curious. Killing cows ranked with murder as a capital offense, for instance. Every girl at birth was married with great ceremony to a betel fruit, which was then cast into a sacred stream. As the fate of the fruit was uncertain the girl was supposed never to become a widow. To obtain divorce from a husband a wife had only to place a betel nut under his pillow and depart. In Nepal the day is considered to begin when it is light enough to count the tiles on the roof or distinguish the hairs on a man's hand against the sky.

A HARD TASKMASTER.

Agassiz Forced His Pupils to Find Out For Themselves.

When I sat me down before my tin pan Agassiz brought me a small fish, placing it before me with the rather stern requirement that I should study it, but should on no account talk to any one concerning it or read anything concerning fishes until I had his permission so to do. To my inquiry, "What shall I do?" he said in effect: "Find out what you can without damaging the specimen. When I think that you have done the work I will question you." In the course of an hour I thought I had completed that fish. But Agassiz, though always within call, concerned himself no further with me that day nor the next nor for a week. At first this neglect was distressing. But I saw that it was a game, for he was, as I discerned rather than saw, covertly watching me. So I set my wits to work upon the thing and in the course of a hundred hours or so thought I had done much, a hundred times as much as seemed possible at the start. I felt full of the subject and probably expressed it in my bearing. As for words about it then, there were none from my master, except his cheery "Good morning." At length on the seventh day came the question, "Well?" and my disgorge of learning to him as he sat on the edge of my table, puffing his cigar. At the end of the hour's telling he swung off and away, saying, "That is not right."

I went at the task anew, discarded my first notes, and in another week of ten hours a day labor I had results which astonished myself and satisfied him. Still there was no trace of praise in words or manner. He signified that it would do by placing before me about a half a peck of bones, telling me to see what I could make of them with no further directions to guide me. Two months or more went to this task, with no other help than an occasional looking over my grouping with the stereotyped remark, "That is not right." Finally the task was done, and I was again set upon alcoholic specimens. —"Autobiography of Professor Shaler" in Atlantic.

To Make It Easier for the Ladies

That a woman's work is never done is a saying old and true, the first of the week is wash day, that's why they call Monday "blue;" and besides the cooking and baking, and the thousand other things, there's the sweeping, scouring and scrubbing that many a backache brings. But the modern way of keeping house, the way it is done today, curtails that oldtime drudgery—it's much the better way. We use rugs in place of carpets, they're cleaner and look far the best, each floor with Chi-Namel is finished—Chi-Namel stands an old test. Sold by T. P. Grant.

Craig

Miss Minerva Craig, 60 years old, died yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Middleton at 521 Fallowfield avenue. The funeral will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon, the funeral party starting for Fayette City at 1:30 where the interment will take place in Mt. Auburn cemetery.

She is survived by three brothers and three sisters. She lived in West Virginia during the past 35 years, coming to Redstone during the past year, and to Charleroi a few weeks ago.

Investment and Speculation.

When any one is buying a coat or a fishing rod or a rose tree or laying down a cellar or setting up a library, either he knows what he wants, where to get it and what to pay for it or else he takes earnest counsel with his friends and with the most trustworthy professional advisers that he can find and uses all the wits that he and others can bring to bear on the subject in order to make sure that his purchase is prudently conducted. He attends sales, rummages in shops and discusses the matter in his club until he and it are voted a nuisance. If only half as much time and trouble were devoted to the careful selection of investments there would be fewer bad companies, unscrupulous promoters and ornamental directors, the world would be very much richer, and its riches would show less tendency to gravitate into questionable hands. Cornhill Magazine.

The Good Time.

Frequently you hear a rich man abused because he stays on the job that made him rich instead of spending his time gadding about the earth in search of a good time. But it is hardly fair to assume that avarice and greed prompt such action or even that it is a lack of faith in humanity. Very likely the work done represents the good time for the man who stays at it after all need of work has passed. For it is certain that there are many ideas of what constitutes happiness, and the man who selects loafing is any to change his mind in time if he tries it. Doing nothing is harder than work, and if a man has spent many years at work, earning little of play, work brings him more enjoyment than the butterfly existence. Robinson Globe.

Cracked and chipped Varnish on a floor is like a leaky roof. Moisture gets through the break and does damage which it costs a lot of money to repair.
